CALLING ALL READERS

Hello Dear Readers,

I wish to ask anybody if they would be willing to become my Beta Reader. I have a couple of stories on the go currently and have written a fair few chapters, I want them Beta'd because I tend to have an issue with keeping the story flow.

My current stories are the one already on my page and another that is currently sitting on my computer waiting to be finished and published.

My current published one - I have had an issue with writers block with - Is a Jake and Renesmee story, which I know where I want it to go but it's the getting there that is the issue currently.

My other story that is just sitting around being toyed with is a Harry Potter story focusing on Rose Weasley and Scorpius Malfoy.

However, If anyone wishes to help me with one or both of those that would be fantastic. I would love for somebody to come and look at it and give me some pointers or even help me co-write it.

If anybody is interested let me know, and either Review or PM me.

Thanks for Reading,

Bekah28
